

Accreditation and Recognition panel member

Name: Ausaf Khan

Team member

Job title: Specialist Pharmacist in Cardiology and Respiratory Medicine at Wrightington, Wigan and Leigh Teaching Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust

Ausaf is currently a specialist pharmacist in Cardiology and Respiratory Medicine at Wrightington, Wigan and Leigh Teaching Hospitals, where he provides specialist clinical input into care of patients through delivering effective and sustainable pharmacy and medicines management services. Throughout his role Ausaf works with wider teams where he is able to influence prescribing practices and ensure the safe and effective use of medicines.

Since graduating from Durham University in 2019, Ausaf has had a diverse pharmacy career. Prior to working as a specialist pharmacist, Ausaf worked within primary care where he ran long-term disease management and polypharmacy clinics, whilst also supporting the acute management of patients across four GP practices in Liverpool. In addition to working in primary care, he has a demonstrated history of working within the NHS as a clinical pharmacist, whilst also taking pharmacist roles within COVID-19 vaccination clinics, community pharmacy, and also the Birmingham 2022 commonwealth games.

Ausaf is currently completing at Post graduate diploma in clinical pharmacy which includes independent prescribing.