

Cristian Ioanas

Senior Pharmacist, Nottingham University Hospitals NHS Trust

Cristian joined the GPhC register as a pharmacist in August 2016, after undertaking pre-registration training at Nottingham University Hospitals (NUH) NHS Trust. Cristian then continued to work there as a rotational pharmacist with on-call responsibilities for two years.

Subsequently, Cristian became a senior pharmacist by joining the pharmacy production team at NUH and is currently working in the MHRA-licensed sterile manufacturing unit, while still maintaining clinical commitments.

Cristian graduated from the University of Nottingham in 2015 and is presently undertaking an MSc in Clinical Pharmacy with De Montfort University.

Cristian holds an interest in risk management and the learning which can be derived from untoward incidents and near-misses that occur within the NHS setting, in either clinical or pharmacy production areas.
