Name: Cristian Ioanas

Team member

Job title: Specialist Pharmacist, Nottingham University Hospitals NHS Trust

Cristian joined the GPhC register as a pharmacist in August 2016, after undertaking pre-registration training at Nottingham University Hospitals (NUH) NHS Trust. Cristian then continued to work there as a rotational pharmacist with on-call responsibilities for two years.

Subsequently, Cristian became a senior pharmacist by joining the pharmacy production team at NUH and working in the MHRA-licensed aseptic, non-sterile and repacking units, while still maintaining a clinical commitment. Furthermore, Cristian will be undertaking a new role at NUH starting from January 2022 as a specialist pharmacist in gastroenterology.

Cristian graduated from the University of Nottingham in 2015 and has since completed a Postgraduate Diploma in Clinical Pharmacy at De Montfort University in 2019.

Cristian holds an interest in risk management, patient safety and the learning which can be derived from untoward incidents and near-misses that occur within the secondary care setting. Moreover, Cristian is passionate about the education and training of junior colleagues and supporting them in their career development.
