

Accreditation and Recognition panel member

Name: Fiona Barber

Team member

Job title: Independent Member, Standards Committee, Leicester City Council

Fiona has spent over 40 years working in the public and voluntary sectors across the East Midlands and at national level, with experience in health, social care, public safety and regulatory issues.

Currently she works with Leicester City Council as an Independent Member of their Standards Committee and as a Co-opted Trustee with the Royal Air Forces Association, leading on the provision of Wellbeing.

Fiona's first career was policing, particularly operational command, and on retirement she moved into the voluntary sector working as a Director of Services and sitting on a number of groups aimed at developing services for people primarily over 50.

She spent time as an elected member of Healthwatch Leicestershire Board, leading on social care and later representing Healthwatch on Clinical Commissioning Boards.

For a number of years she brought external strategic perspective and challenge to NHSE&I as a member of the Primary Care Strategic Oversight Group and also the Clinical Priorities Advisory Group.

Fiona served as Deputy Chair for East Leicestershire & Rutland Clinical Commissioning Group, working to ensure Primary Care services were delivered to the local population and making the transition into an Integrated Care System.
