Dear Ms McSimpson

RE: Reaccreditation of the University of Lincoln pharmacist independent prescribing programme

Thank you very much for your letter dated 18th August in relation to our reaccreditation event, which took place at the GPhC Headquarters in London, on 21st April 2017.

Following the event, the General Pharmaceutical Council's panel recommended that the University of Lincoln pharmacist independent prescribing programme should be reaccredited for a further period of three years, subject to meeting one condition.

We are extremely pleased to hear that the accreditation team feels satisfied that this condition has now been met and that our Programme will remain accredited until the end of July 2020.

The team at the University of Lincoln would like to thank you personally for your very efficient and helpful administration of this process. Please also convey our thanks to the members of the panel for their comprehensive and specific feedback in relation to the mapping of GPhC Learning Outcomes within our programme documentation, as this will prove very useful for future accreditation events.

Yours sincerely,
