

15 August 2018

Joanne Martin
Quality Assurance Manager (Education)
General Pharmaceutical Council
25 Canada Square
London
E14 5LQ

Dear Joanne

RE: Accreditation of the University College of London (UCL) Pharmacist Independent Prescribing Programme

Thank you for your letter dated 10th August in relation to our accreditation event which took place here at the UCL School of Pharmacy on 21st June 2018.

Following the event, the General Pharmaceutical Council's panel recommended that the UCL Pharmacist Independent Prescribing Programme should be accredited for a period of three years (to end of August 2021) with the first year being provisional subject to a monitoring event after completion of the first cohort of students.

We are delighted to hear that the accreditation team was satisfied that our Clinically Enhanced Pharmacist Independent Prescribing Course (60 credits) met the accreditation requirements. We would like to confirm that we accept both the record and report as a fair and accurate summary of the accreditation event.

The team here at the UCL School of Pharmacy would like to thank you personally for the efficient and helpful administration of this accreditation process.

Please also convey our thanks to the members of the panel for their interest, discussion and feedback in relation to the accreditation of this new course. We look forward to sharing the results and feedback from our first cohort of pharmacist trainee prescribers and their designated medical practitioners with the GPhC.

Yours sincerely

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read 'Cate Whittlesea', with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.

Cate Whittlesea
Professor of Pharmacy Practice, Head of the Research Department of Practice and Policy and Associate Director for Clinical Education